

IT outsourcing

Over 80% of IT departments are taking action to cut and monitor spending, according to a new survey by Info-Tech Research Group.

During this global economic slowdown, many organizations are looking at how to reduce operational costs to keep their businesses profitable. This is where IT outsourcing enters the picture. How would like to reduce your IT costs and improve IT Efficiency?

In addition to benefiting from a reduction in IT operational costs, IT outsourcing results in an automatic reduction in training costs, health benefits, and staff turnover. Not to mention the added benefit of having access to more IT expertise and 24/7 support.

Info-Tech Research Group also states: "Outsourcing is being done in roughly 2/3rds of organizations for three key reasons: IT cost savings, IT efficiency and business value, and to level the playing field for small organizations." Info-Tech Research Group also reports that substantial savings can be realized when one or more areas of IT are outsourced.
